Section B

Note : Attempt all the questions.

11. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below :

The responsibility of our young citizens is great, In many view every station in life is important in itself. Work has its own dignity and there is great satisfaction in doing one's own job to the best of one's ability. Whatever the duties, we should apply ourselves with sincerity and devotion. Such an approach, apart from being good in itself, also has added advantages of opening awareness for further advancement. We have to see whether we have done our own job well before thinking of criticizing anybody else. All too often, we succumb to the temptation of decrying others without bothering to look to ourselves. Never forget that loyalty to the country comes ahead of all other loyalties. And this is absolute loyalty, since one cannot weigh it in terms of what one receives.

Questions :

- (i) Every station of life is important in itself. Explain.
- (ii) How can we attain satisfaction ?
- (iii) How should we perform our duties ?
- (iv) What should be our attitude towards our job and other people ?
- (v) What do you understand by 'absolute loyalty' ?
- (vi) Give the suitable title to the passage.

Or

Make a precis of the following passage and assign a suitable title :

The word 'adventure' embraces a company of great words, including courage, tenacity, selflessness and faith, but its most potent ingredient cannot be expressed in one word : It is the spirit that urges men to volunteer to undertake hazardous tasks, for adventure implies the readiness and desire to embark on a course of action that entails risk. As we grow older, however, the spirit of adventure tends to be restrained by caution. Yet in some men the urge for adventure may be so strong that it overwhelms the primary instinct for self-preservation and inspires them to attempt the impossible, to reach out for the unobtainable. To evoke our admiration, adventure needs to be successful; it is enough if the adventure is impelled by courage.
